(a) The figures for 1841, as published in Gazette, are full of errors which cannot now be corrected, and should therefore be used with great caution.

(b) The figures for 1847 include 2246 military, including dependent women and children; also 3739 male convicts on public works.

(c) The figures for Persons include 690 "military," which includes dependent women and children, sex not distinguished. The figures for males and females are therefore incomplete—as a result the increase in sexes at the 1861 Census cannot also be ascertained.

NOTE.—The above figures for recorded migration are subject to a correction by adding every quarter 65 males and 25 females to the recorded interstate departures, and 1 per cent. of males, and 4 per cent. of females to the recorded overseas departures. This correction is the average correction found necessary for the intercensal period 1911-1921, and has been decided upon by the Commonwealth Statistician for the period 1921-1931. The corrected figures are given in the table above.

†Exclusive of figures for those districts in which no poll was taken.

A denotes that the result of the election (in the district so marked) is in favour of "Continuance."

B denotes that the result of the election (in the district so marked) is in favour of "Reduction."

In each district which has a blank space in the "Result of Poll" column, the result is "Indefinite," as 25 % of electors on roll (as required by the Act) had not voted in favour of either resolution.

NOTE.—A vote in favour of A does not entitle a district to increase the number of licensed houses. A vote in favour of B makes a reduction obligatory—the reduction shall be at least 2 in districts with 12 to 24 houses, 3 in districts with 24 to 36 houses, and 4 in districts with more than 36 licensed houses. The reduction may be up to 75 % of total.

The total cost of taking the poll in 1920-21 was £637.

VITAL STATISTICS.

NOTE.

In the following tables all rates are calculated on revised estimates of the population, based on the provisional returns of the Census of 4th April, 1921, for the population of the whole State and of Municipalities.

No rates depending on the age distribution of the population, such as the index of mortality, are given, because such rates will be largely speculative until further results of the Census are available.

Reference may be made to the Commonwealth Bulletin on Demography for 1921, which may be expected shortly, for more detailed information in respect to Tasmania, on—

Ages, Birth-places, and Occupations of parents of children born.

Birth-places and Occupations of persons dying.

Ages, Birth-places, Occupations, and Conjugal Condition of persons marrying.

In the Commonwealth Bulletin may also be found for the whole of the Commonwealth, but not for Tasmania separately, information in considerable detail respecting—

Mother's age, showing duration of marriage, and previous issue.

Interval between marriage and first birth.

Causes of death classified with occupations.

Duration of marriage, total issue, and average family for persons dying.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN CHIEF TOWNS AND DIVISIONS.

NOTE.—For 1921, Births are ascribed to the District in which the parents live, and Deaths to the District where the deceased normally lived. The same applies to 1920, except that the correct allocation of births is not quite complete, and the urban figures are in consequence somewhat too high.

a Record incomplete.

NOTE.—The two tables above (and other similar tables), must be read with some caution on account of changes of classification that have taken place before 1910. Since 1910 the classification has been substantially uniform. In the last table, in order to allow for known changes, the classes 89, 91 and 92 are grouped together; as are 150 and 151. For the same reason, but with less certainty, 71 and 104 are grouped together tentatively at the end of the table.

WEATHER, 1921.

SYNOPSIS OF THE WEATHER OVER TASMANIA DURING THE YEAR, 1921.

REPORT of the Weather Bureau, Hobart.

The rainfall for the Year 1921 was on the whole under-average, but the deficiencies were not very considerable except in the South-East and Derwent Valley, where they amounted to 20 or 25 per cent. of the normal fall.

The distribution of rainfall during the first six months of the year was similar to that of 1920.

The late summer and autumn months were dry, particularly February and March, and the outlook for the wintering of stock was not bright. The winter months, however, had an abundant rainfall and the weather was mild until the middle of July, so that the gloomy anticipations of the earlier months were not realised.

The last four months of the year were, unfortunately, very dry over the Southern half of the State. A very mild September was favourable for vigorous growth in early crops and pastures, but in parts of the Midlands and South and in the lower Derwent Valley the late cereal and fruit crops were seriously affected by the dry weather, and the grass grub wrought havoc in the pastures. In the North conditions were much better, while in some of the Straits Islands the season is said to have been the best for years. December rainfall returns, however, showed that the North was also experiencing a very dry time at the close of the year.

The rainfall for JANUARY was about normal, but the Western half of the State had a slight deficiency. Pressure was considerably above normal owing to the persistence of three intense "highs," each of which ended in a period of high temperature, followed by a cold snap.

From FEBRUARY to MAY the rainfall was under-average. In February the deficiencies were considerable, except in the North, and in March there was a serious shortage in the North, Midlands, and East.

High pressure prevailed throughout the month of FEBRUARY, except for slight depressions at the beginning and close of the month.

The first vigorous depression of the year passed over the State on the 15th MARCH, accompanied by northerly gales. Thereafter, until the end of APRIL, barometric fluctuations were frequent with squally changeable weather. The first heavy snowfall of the year occurred on the highlands on the 9th April, with rough southerly weather.

A period of anti-cyclonic weather was experienced during the first half of MAY, and many heavy frosts occurred in the second week. About the middle of the month there were some very fine auroral displays. A long period of low pressure ensued with a spell of rough cold showery weather towards the close of the month, much snow falling on the highlands.

A considerable improvement in the rainfall took place in JUNE, a splendid warm easterly rain occurring on the 8th and 9th. The month was mild with an absence of heavy frosts.

Splendid rains fell in JULY and AUGUST with very deep and persistent barometric depressions. The July rainfall was by far the best of the year. Temperatures were mild during the first half of the month, but very cold towards the close, when one of the biggest snowfalls on record occurred over the State. Severe northerly gales were experienced about the middle of July, doing much damage on land and causing peril in many cases to shipping at sea. Unusually high tides also occurred at this time, and the lowest barometer reading for the year was recorded on the 15th (28·712 at Hobart). Some further falls of snow occurred on the highlands during August, and the mean monthly temperature was below normal for the first time this year.

The rainfall for the remaining months was under-average over the Southern half of the State, and October and December were dry generally. The deficiencies were considerable in the Derwent Valley, South, and also in the Midlands, except in November.

SEPTEMBER temperatures were considerably above the average. In the early part of the month the weather was fairly settled, with a warm spell, but a disturbance on the 9th and 10th brought damage-causing gales. Squally westerly winds prevailed during the latter half of the month, with a rapidly fluctuating barometer and changeable weather.

OCTOBER was cool and dry. There were only two depressions of any considerable intensity, and the wind travel was comparatively low.

NOVEMBER mean temperature was practically the highest recorded in this month for 50 years. A very warm spell occurred about the middle of the month. Depressions were of the westerly type, and were frequent but of little intensity.

DECEMBER on the whole was cool and cloudy with a marked absence of rain-bearing depressions. This was the driest month of the year, the various districts receiving only from one-fifth to two-thirds of their normal rainfall. Mean pressure was above normal, barometers being particularly high during the latter half of the month.

The rainfall during the year for the various districts is summarised in the following table :—

(1) Values of exports are fixed before export, and as most exports are sold on the open market the value as given by the Customs Department may be considerably in error. For example, oversea apple exports in 1920-21 here valued at £457,809 actually realised only £343,000 f.o.b. The latter figure is taken in value of production. See Part V., Production, pp. 13, 15.

STOCK AND CROP STATISTICS, 1921-22.

TENURE OF LAND.

The total area occupied was returned at 6,400,000 acres at about the middle of the present year. This figure shows a decrease of 27,000 acres from last year. Freehold land occupied by the owner is now returned as 3,568,000 acres, an increase of 127,000 acres over last year. Crown land in process of purchase remains at the same figure, while rented freehold and leased Crown lands have decreased. The proportion of rented freehold to land occupied (excluding Crown leasehold) has declined from 20 per cent. to 19 per cent. in the twelve months. The decrease in the proportion of rented land has been chiefly in the Midland and North Midland Divisions. This proportion of rented land in the principal agricultural divisions is now as follows :—

North Midland	22·4 per cent.
South-Eastern	21·5 per cent.
Midland	20·6 per cent.
North-Western	17·7 per cent.
North-Eastern	17·4 per cent.
Southern	10·5 per cent.

The small proportion of rented farms in the Southern Division (comprising Huon, Channel, Peninsula, and Derwent Valley) is a natural corollary of the predominance of fruitgrowing in those districts.

IRRIGATION.

The area returned as under irrigation during the season 1921-22 was 10,500 acres, compared with 7000 acres the previous year. The increased area was almost entirely in respect to irrigation of pasture land. As 1921 was the first year in which irrigation statistics were collected, the increase may be to a considerable extent accounted for by fuller and more accurate reporting. Irrigation for pasture may have at first been overlooked in some cases. About half the area irrigated was served by gravitation, and the remainder by windmill and other power about equally. Pasture irrigated accounted for 7700 acres, or three-quarters of the whole. Hops irrigated were 1335 acres, an increase of 125 acres over last year, corresponding exactly with the increase in acreage of hops in bearing (1413 acres). Orchards irrigated were 850 acres, the same as last year. Green fodder (106 acres) shows some increase, but other crops irrigated (471 acres) a considerable decrease, on year before. New Norfolk is the most important district for irrigation, both for hops and fruit. Hamilton has 200 acres of irrigated hops, and Spring Bay 350 acres of irrigated fruit. Other irrigation is mostly for pasture, in Hamilton, Bothwell, Westbury, and Flinders Island principally. Launceston has 166 acres irrigated, chiefly for market gardens.

FARM WORKERS.

The total number of male workers on farms was 18,693, an increase of 440 on last year, and 11 per cent. greater than in 1915. The number of female workers was 2908, an increase of 200 over last year, but 9 per cent. fewer than in 1915. The number returned as chiefly engaged on different kinds of work on the land must be read with some reserve, but there appears to be a marked tendency to increase in the number of males engaged in dairying, which is now two and a half times what it was in 1915.

The percentage of land workers who receive wages was 31 per cent., compared with 29 per cent. the year before. The lowest proportions are in the S.E and N.W. (26 per cent.), and the highest in the Midlands, 47 per cent. Female land workers were 14 per cent. of the whole—about 1 in 7. They were highest in dairying, 38 per cent., with 8 per cent. in fruitgrowing, and 5 per cent. in agricultural and pastoral work.

The percentage of boys under 17 years was 8 per cent. for the whole State. It was highest, 11 per cent., in the North-West, and about 6 per cent. in most other divisions.

FARMING MACHINERY.

There is no very marked advance over last year in the quantity of machinery in use, and in many respects no great advance since 1914, the first year in which farming machinery was recorded. The horsepower of engines used increased steadily, and this year was 4878, compared with 2642 in 1914. New Norfolk is the municipality which uses most power. Binders, threshing machines, and grain drills have remained steady for some years. The largest increase over last year is in milking machines, 212 plants, compared with 173 last year, and 46 in 1914. Wool-presses hardly increase in numbers, but shearing machines have grown from 337 in 1915 to 541 this year. 17,000 ploughs are recorded, against 14,000 in 1914. Apple-graders number 120, or one more than last year. This year cider-presses were recorded, but the total number given was only 17, and not one of these was in the principal apple districts, the Huon and Channel. The figures for farming machinery generally are, however, probably not very accurate.

BEES AND HONEY.

The total number of hives recorded was 6590, a small increase on last year, but well below the average since 1914. About one-third of the hives were frame-hives, and the remainder boxes. The proportion of modern hives has only increased from one-quarter to one-third in the last eight years.

The total yield of honey was 84,000 lbs —somewhat below the average. The yield per hive was only 12½ lbs., 11 lbs. from box-hives, and 15 from frame-hives. It is evident that bee-culture in Tasmania is in a very backward state.

The municipality which produces most honey is (as usual, but rather surprisingly) Strahan, with one-seventh of the whole Tasmanian production. Esperance comes next; Leven, which is generally a large producer, has this year a poor yield. The comparatively high yields of some municipalities are generally due to one or two serious bee-farmers in the district.

POULTRY.

The number of fowls returned for the middle of 1922 was 389,000, or 22,000 more than last year. Hobart with Glenorchy had nearly 33,000 of these, and may be considered the principal poultry district. Other large poultry-keepers are (in order):— Westbury, Table Cape, Kentish, and Deloraine. Ducks were 30,000, an increase of 3000; geese were 12,500, and turkeys 11,000, each showing an increase of about 20 0 in the year. The number of fowls kept in Tasmania is not relatively large. Figures are not available for most countries, but in the United States at the Census of 1910 there were just over three fowls kept per head of population; the average in Tasmania is now only 1·8 per head.

CULTIVATION.

An attempt has been made for the last two years to obtain information as to the amount of land fit for the plough which was not actually being cropped, and the amount of new land brought under cultivation. The returns, however, are not satisfactory, owing to various misunderstandings. It may be taken, however, that about 6000 acres were first brought under the plough during 1921, and a similar area in the year before. One item, however, is probably returned with accuracy, namely the amount of bare fallow. The proportion for the whole State is about 1 acre of bare fallow to 7 acres under crop, but it varies from 1 in 24 in the North-West to 1 in 3 in the North Midlands.

Acres of Bare Fallow per 100 Acres Crop.

North-West	4
South	7
North-East	9
South-East	27
Midland	29
North Midland	31

The low proportion for the South is chiefly due to the fact that orchard accounts for three-quarters of the land under crop in that division.

MANURE.

There is no evidence of increased use of manure. Last season 298,000 cwt. of artificial fertiliser and 18,500 tons of dung were used on 186,000 acres of crop. The total quantity used was slightly less than in 1913-14, the first year for which information is available. A much larger area is now manured, so that the amount used per acre treated has fallen from the equivalent of 2·3 cwt. of artificial per acre to 1·8 cwt. per acre. The proportion of land manured to total crop has increased somewhat, but there are still 107,000 acres, or more than one-third of total land under crop, which receive no manure at all.

The heaviest manuring is done in the Southern Division, where the land manured averages 4 cwt. of artificial per acre, chiefly for orchards and hop fields. It appears, however, that at least half the orchards in the Huon and Channel are not manured at all. The North-West uses on the average about 2 cwt. of artificial per acre treated, largely for potatoes. The other divisions have all about the same average of 1 cwt. per acre.

WHEAT VARIETIES.

Information was asked as to varieties of wheat grown. In the North Midlands, which is the chief wheat-growing division, 60 per cent. of the wheat grown is Braemar Velvet. Four other varieties, Red Chaff, Marquis, Dart's Imperial, and Tuscan Red, each contribute from 5 to 10 per cent., and several other kinds are tried.

In the North-West practically the only wheat grown is Federation, except in the border district of Deloraine, where Red Chaff has a larger following.

In the North-East, Fingal is the only serious producer of wheat, and there Braemar Velvet is the favourite variety. The same is true of the Midlands, but here Purple Straw begins to come into favour, and Farmers' Friend has a following.

In the South-East Purple Straw predominates with three-quarters of the total production. Braemar Velvet accounts for 15 per cent. more, and Federation and Lady Franklin for most of the remainder. The only district in the Southern Division producing an appreciable quantity of wheat is New Norfolk, and there Braemar Velvet comes to the front again, with Purple Straw in the second place. For the whole State the proportion of different varieties was:—

Braemar Velvet	38 per cent.
Purple Straw	19 per cent.
Federation	19 per cent.
Red Chaff	9 per cent.
Marquis	4 per cent.
Dart's Imperial	3 per cent.
Red Tuscan	2 per cent.
Others	6 per cent.
	100

VARIETIES OF POTATOES.

In the North-West, which is responible forfour-fifths of the potato production of the State, 75 per cent. of the potatoes grown are Brownells. Bismarcks make another 12 per cent., Plunketts and Snowflakes 3 per cent. each. In the North-East, which accounts for another 10 per cent. of the total potato crop, Brownells and Up-to-Date are grown almost exclusively in equal proportions. In the rest of the State Up-to-Date is the favourite variety, though in the Southern Division the White Elephant has also a considerable following.

For the whole production of the State the proportions are : —

Brownells	65 per cent.
Up-to-Date	12 per cent.
Bismarcks	10 per cent.
Plunketts	3 per cent.
Snowflakes	3 per cent.
Pink-eyes	1 per cent.
Elephants	1 per cent.
Other kinds	5 per cent.

HORSES.

The decline in horses during the last ten years has been 5600, or about 13 per cent. At the same time there has been a much greater decline in the number of horses under 1 year, which grew smaller year by year, and was last year less than one-third of the number in 1913. This points to a rather remarkable decline in the number of horses bred. On the average it appears that in the year only 1 mare in 15 now has a foal, where 10 years ago the proportion was 1 in 5 In 1922, however, there is a slight recovery noticeable in the proportion of foals. The Southern Division and parts of the North-West have considerably more foals in proportion than other parts of the State.

CATTLE.

The increase in cattle for the year was 8500, or about 4 per cent. There was a drop in numbers in a few districts— Emu Bay, Scottsdale, Oatlands, Ross, and Green Ponds, but the increase was pretty general, and most marked in Circular Head and Lilydale. There was an increase of 5000 in dairy cows, and of 5700 in calves, with some falling off in other cattle. The percentage of dairy cows to total cattle is 31 per cent., the same proportion as at the same time in South Australia. Two out of three dairy cows are returned as in milk about May-June.

PIGS.

The number of pigs was just on 50,000, an increase of 12,000 over last year, when the number was particularly low. The number of breeding sows has increased in the same ratio, and is about 18 per cent. of the total. Kentish, Table Cape, and Deloraine are the largest pig breeders.

SHEEP.

The number of sheep was 1,551,000, a decline of nearly 20,000 on last year, and nearly 300,000 below the number in 1919. The number of ewes was returned at 679,000, a decline of 33,000 in the year. Lambs marked were 75 per cent. of the ewes put to ram, which were 75 per cent. of total ewes. The lambing percentage was rather better than last year, and somewhat above the average. Merinos were returned as 10 per cent. of the total sheep, and other pure breeds as 2 per cent.

DAIRY PRODUCE.

The total production of butter reached the record figure of 5,270,000 lbs., an increase of 1¼ million lbs. over last year. The factory production was about twice the production on farms, and accounted for most of the increase. Cheese also showed an increase of over 25 per cent., and totalled over a million lbs. Bacon was also well above the average with 1,356,000 lbs. The factory production, nearly two-thirds of the whole, was about the same as last year, but the production on farms showed a substantial increase.

VALUE OF APPLE AND PEAR CROP, 1922.

Apples.	£
English exports, 1,300,000 bush., at 5s. 3½d.	343,000
Interstate exports, 1,330,000 bush., at 5s. 6d.	371,000
Drying and Cider, 140,000, bush., at 1s. 5d.	10,000
Local consumption, 220,000 bush., at 4s.	44,000
Total marketed, 2,990,000 bush.	£768,000

Pears.	£
English exports, 55,000 bush., at 8s. 6d.	23,000
Interstate exports, 120,000 bush., at 7s. 7d.	45,000
Local consumption, 32,000 bush., at 5s.	8000
Total marketed, 207,000 bush.	£76,000

Of the English exports about 900,000 cases were sold as sound fruit, giving a net return on the wharf at Hobart of 5s. 8d. per case. Total charges from the wharf at Hobart are estimated to average 9s. per case. About 400,000 cases were sold as unsound fruit, and the net return on these when insurance has been paid should be about 4s. 5d. per case. The corresponding values and quantities in the case of pears are more speculative from absence of sufficient data. The average quantity and value in the case of local consumption can only be roughly estimated. The figures given refer only to marketed fruit, and take no account of consumption of fruit which is not bought and sold.

NOTE.—The percentage in the last column is designed to give an approximate measure of the proportion of farming and pastoral land, excluding Crown leases and licenses, that is rented from the owner. Share farms are left out as being intermediate in their nature. The figure given is the percentage of rented land to the total made up of rented land, freehold occupation, and Crown land in process of purchase on time payment.

Of the total box hives 45·3 per cent. were unproductive. Of the total frame hives 18·8 per cent. were unproductive.

MINERAL PRODUCTION.

The value of Mineral Production as given in the following tables for 1921 and past years is in general the value of the pure metal contents of the ores mined, not the value of the ore when it leaves the mine. It includes, therefore, the value added to the ore by smelting, refining, &c., whether done in Tasmania or other States. The value of smelting, &c., is also counted in industrial production, and is, therefore, improperly duplicated in the total value of production. The extent of the duplication in Tasmania may be roughly estimated at £500,000.

Headings.	Particulars.
	"The Wages Boards Act, 1920."
Wages Boards.	Whilst Parliament is in session, both Houses, by resolution, may authorise the establishment of Wages Boards; when Parliament is not in session, such Boards may be established by the Governor.
Constitution of Boards.	The Boards consist of an equal number of representatives of the employers and employees, with an independent Chairman, and the representative members hold office for three years from the date of the notification of their appointment in the "Gazette."
Notice of Board to be Appointed.	A notice of a Board to be appointed is required by the Act to be published in the Government "Gazette," and at least two newspapers published at Hobart, two at Launceston, and one at Burnie. Within 14 days of the publication of such notices nominations may be made of employers' and employees' representatives on the Board. In the event of those concerned failing to make the necessary nominations, representatives to the extent of such failure are selected by the Minister. In the event of an excess number of representatives being nominated, the Minister selects the necessary number.
Powers and Functions of Board.	It is mandatory that the Board shall determine the minimum rates which may be paid for wages or for piece-work, or both; also which of the adult employees are to be considered journeymen for the purposes of the Act. The Board may also determine variations or additions in the rates in respect of overtime or work done on Sundays or holidays; the day and hour when payment of wages shall be made; prescribe a form of apprenticeship indenture, and what the term of apprenticeship shall be, such term not to be less than three years; fix the proportionate number of apprentices, improvers, and junior workers—provided that the proportionate number of apprentices shall not be less than one apprentice to each journeyman of the same sex, and the proportionate number of junior workers not be more than one to every three journeymen of the same sex. The Board may also prescribe what notice shall be given to terminate a contract of service, and, if unanimous, may determine a number of days, not exceeding 14, to be allowed each year as holidays on full pay; and may also, if unanimous, determine a wage to be paid irrespective of the number of hours worked and in lieu of the payment of overtime.
Aged, Slow, and Infirm Workers.	The Chief Inspector of Factories may grant to an aged, slow, or infirm worker a licence to work for less than the wage fixed by the Board. An employer, however, may not, without the consent of the Minister, employ any number of such persons exceeding one-fifth of the whole number of persons employed by him, but notwithstanding this, every employer may employ one licensed slow worker.
Duration of Determination.	Determinations of a Board remain in operation for two years, or until a new determination is made by the Board.
Inspectors.	An inspector appointed under the Act may enter any premises wherein he has reason to think persons are employed who are subject to a Wages Board determination, and make such enquiries as may be deemed necessary for carrying out the provisions of the Act.
Penalty and Recovery of Arrears of Wages.	Payment of wages other than prescribed by the Act, or the determinations made thereunder, is made an offence punishable before a police magistrate by fine; and the police magistrate may also order payment of arrears of wages or overtime in respect of three months prior to the institution of proceedings. The employee may recover in a court of competent jurisdiction any arrears of wages not made the subject of the police magistrate's order in respect of a period of six months.
Regulating the Employment of Apprentices.	The Chief Inspector may, at the instance of any party to an indenture of apprenticeship, enquire into any alleged breach thereof, and institute proceedings before a police magistrate in respect of such failure. The Chief Inspector is empowered to grant permits to apprentices who are unable to complete their apprenticeship before reaching the age of 21 years, and permits to continue the existing number of apprentices, where the proportionate number of journeymen has, through depression in trade, been reduced.
Agreements.	Agreements may be entered into under certain conditions between employers and employees as to rates of pay and conditions of employment, and on being filed at the office of the Chief Inspector, override any determination of a Board so far as the parties thereto are concerned.
	"The Shops' Closing Act, 1911," and "The Shops' Closing Act, 1913."
Closing of Shops.	With the following exceptions, all shops in Tasmania are required by the Act to close at 6 p.m. on four days of the week, at 10 p.m. on one day, and 1 p.m. on the day on which the statutory half-holiday is observed.
Small Shops.	Shopkeepers, provided they employ no paid assistants, and their business is not a partnership, may be granted a Small Shop Licence, which will enable them to keep their shop open until 9 p.m. on four days of the week, 10 p.m. on one day, and 1 p.m. on the day on which the statutory half-holiday is observed.
Hairdressers.	Hairdressers are required to close their shops at 7 p.m. on four days of the week, at 10 p.m. on one day, and 1 p.m. on one day, the day on which the half-holiday is observed being at the individual option of each.
Butchers' Shops in Hobart or Launceston.	These shops are required to close at 5 p.m. on Mondays to Thursdays inclusive, at 10 p.m. on Fridays, and 1 p.m. on Saturdays.
Exempt Shops.	Vegetable, fruit, confectionery, and cooked-meat shops, also licensed hotels, public-houses, railway refreshment-rooms, restaurants, tea-rooms, milk vendors, and undertakers are entirely exempt from closing on the statutory half-holiday; and tobacconist shops, tea-rooms, restaurants, railway refreshment-rooms, photographers (for the purpose of taking photographs by appointment only), licensed hotels, public-houses, cooked-meat shops, fish and oyster shops, bakers, pastrycooks, confectionery shops, vegetable shops, and newspaper shops for the purpose of selling newspapers, books, postcards, postage stamps, revenue stamps, and stationery, where no person other than the proprietor or any immediate member of his family not receiving payment is engaged during the statutory closing hours, are exempt from the other closing hours specified by the Act.

Headings.	Particulars.
Chemists.	Chemists and druggists, including friendly societies' dispensaries, may supply medicines or necessities in urgent cases during the statutory closing hours, and friendly societies may supply medicines prescribed by a medical practitioner to members thereof or to chemists and druggists between the hours of 7 and 8 p.m. on statutory half-holidays, public holidays, or Sundays.
Mixed Trades.	In the case of shops specially exempted under any provision of the Act, it is deemed an offence to sell goods not properly belonging thereto during the hours shops having like goods for sale are compelled by the Act to close; also if all such goods are not substantially screened from public view during such hours.
Christmas and New Year Period.	The operations of the Act are suspended during three week days immediately preceding Christmas Day, and one week day preceding New Year's Day.
	"The Workers' Compensation Act, 1918," and Amendments.
Compensation in Case of Incapacity.	Where total or partial incapacity for work results from an injury received during and in the course of employment, the worker is entitled to receive a payment of 50 per centum of his average weekly earnings, such weekly payment to be not less than £1 and not to exceed £2 10s.
In Case of Death.	Where death results from the injury, the following compensation is payable:— (I.) If the worker leaves any dependants, a sum equal to his earnings during the three years next preceding the injury, or a sum of £200, whichever is the larger, but not exceeding £400. (II.) If the worker does not leave any dependants wholly dependent upon him, but leaves dependants in part dependent upon his earnings, such sum as may be agreed upon, or, in default of agreement, such sum as may be determined under the Act to be reasonable. (III.) If he leaves no dependants, such sum, not exceeding £30, for reasonable expenses of his medical attendance and burial.
Definition of a Worker.	A worker does not include— (I.) A person whose average weekly earnings, calculated in accordance with the provisions of the Act, exceed £5; (II.) An outworker; or (III.) A domestic servant in a private family— (a) Under the age of 16 years; or (b) Who is employed for less than eight hours per diem; (c) Who has at the date of the injury been in the employ of the same employer for less than 60 days continuously; (IV.) A member of an employer's family (dwelling in his house); or (V.) A person whose employment is of a casual nature, and who is employed otherwise than for the purposes of the employer's trade or business: But, save as aforesaid, "worker" means any person who has entered into or works under a contract of service or apprenticeship with an employer by way of manual labour, clerical work, or otherwise, expressed or implied orally or in writing, and whether the employment is by land or water.

NOTE.—Income Tax is collectable for the calendar year, and since 1911 is based on the income for financial year (called in this table assessment year) ending six months before commencement of that calendar year. The analysis given in the Commissioner's Report refers to the tax for the calendar year preceding the one in which the report is issued, and which, consequently, is based on income for financial year 24 months before date of report.

(a) Collections at the Central Office (which for the whole of the Commonwealth amount to approximately one third of the Total) are not included.

(b) Actual collections in Tasmania. The amount of duty collected in the other States of the Commonwealth on goods transhipped to Tasmania is not included.

(c) Figures based on the assumption that the Customs and Excise Revenue per head in Tasmania, from 1912 onwards, bore the same proportion to the Customs and Excise Revenue per head for the Commonwealth that it did on the average for the nine years 1901 to 1909, for which years only full information is available. (The average per head, 1901 to 1909, in Tasmania was approximately 82% of the average per head for the Commonwealth.)

† These moneys relate to the Meetings held within the year. Up to the 29th September, 1904, the Tax payable to the Treasury was 1 per cent. of the total sum of money placed in or upon the Totalisator, not exceeding Ten Pounds for the use of the Totalisator or Totalisators for each day. From that date the tax was 1 per cent. of the total moneys placed in or upon the Totalisator. From February, 1917, the percentage on total moneys placed in or upon the Totalisator was increased to 2½ per cent., and all broken money made payable to Treasury.

NOTE.—The rates are as recorded in the Melbourne "Journal of Commerce." The dates are those at which a change was made in any official rate. The last column showing true official equivalence, eliminating bank charges, profit, and interest, is obtained by taking the mean of buying and selling rates for T.T.'s in Melbourne, or what comes to the same thing, by taking one-half the difference between selling rates for T.T.'s in London and Melbourne.

It should be noted that the bank rates do not always agree with the rates at which exchange can be bought and sold privately, nor will the banks of necessity sell or buy exchange without limit at the quoted rate. An exchange rate arrived at on the open market (such as is usually quoted for countries other than Australia and South Africa) would have many more and much greater fluctuations than the bank rates here recorded.

FRIENDLY SOCIETIES: REPORT OF THE STATISTICIAN FOR THE YEAR 1921.

Hobart, 11th November, 1922.

R,

IN accordance with the provisions of "The Friendly cieties Act, 1877," I have the honour to furnish the llowing report with respect to the year 1921:—

Returns and Information.

1. The usual tables disclosing the operations and state finances of each district and branch society which furshed returns to this office for the previous year were tly published and distributed on application. A few cieties still continue to cause trouble and expense by otracted delay in sending in returns. Two lodges ve failed to furnish returns.

Membership.

2. Compared with the previous year the membership ows a slight increase, mainly in juveniles, and, to a ser degree, in adult males. There is a 4·4 per cent. crease in the number of females. On the whole the te of increase is far below that of pre-war years. The mber of adult benefit members in 1921 is about equal the number on roll in 1915.

Receipts.

3. Receipts totalled £95,521, an advance of £2966 the amount for the previous year. Of the increase, 95 was derived from contributions and levies, £317 m interest, and the balance from miscellaneous rces. Owing to the growing practice amongst cieties of striking a levy on the occasion of the death of ch member for the purpose of paying additional neral benefits, the contributions and levies per finan-l member have risen from £2 18s. 6d. in 1914, to £3 7d. in 1921. The rate of interest earned by invest-nts was 5.05 per cent., which is slightly lower than rate for 1920, but well above any other year. cumulated funds grew steadily at the rate of 4 to 5 r cent. per annum in pre-war years; received a check 1915-17; and appear in 1921 to be nearing a normal e of growth.

Sickness and Mortality.

4. The average duration of sickness per (male) finan-l member was 9·2 days. This is half a day better an the 1920 average, and one and a half days better an 1919, when the influenza epidemic had such marked luence; but is 1·2 days over the average of the period 1911-15. The average sickness for females is equally half a day less than in 1920. Deaths per 1000 financial adult members averaged, in the case of males, 9·86, and in the case of females, 6·25, being respectively, 0·23 and 0·95 higher than in the previous year. Compared with the six years 1909-1914, when the deaths amongst adult financial benefit members averaged 8·0 per 1000 the corresponding rate for 1921 is 1·65 higher.

Expenditure.

5. The expenditure (£84,817) shows an increase of, approximately, £2000 over that of the previous year. The item "Medicine and Medical Attendance" has increased by £1895, and management by £734; but "Sick Pay" and "Funeral Benefits" show a falling off respectively of £439 and £209.

The average amount paid in funeral benefits was (for adult males) £69 2s. 5d., as against £72 12s. 4d. in 1920, and £75 5s. 8d. in 1919. This average varies from year to year, according to the ratio which the number of deaths in the societies which pay £100 funeral benefit bears to the whole.

Compared with the pre-war period (1911-15), expenditure per financial member increased as follows:—Medical expenses from 17s. 10d. to 21s. 4d., or 15 per cent.; sick pay from 18s. 11d. to 21s. 5d., or 13 per cent.; funeral benefits from 11s. 1d. to 14s., or 26 per cent.; management from 10s. 11d. to 13s. 2d., or 21 per cent.; total expenditure from 65s. 6d. to 77s. or 18 per cent.; while members contributions increased only from 58s. 6d. to 64s. 7d., or 10 per cent. The balance of total receipts over expenditure amounted to 9s. 8d. per head in 1911-15, and was exactly the same in 1921.

Quinquennial Valuation.

The actuarial investigation of the financial position of societies to which reference was made in my last report is now being conducted by Mr. A. M. Laughton, F.I.A., F.F.A., the Government Statist and Actuary of Friendly Societies of Victoria. The cards to contain the necessary data were sent out to all societies at the beginning of March by this Department. Some societies yere very prompt with their returns, particularly the Protestant Alliance and the Foresters; and in most cases the information was furnished without unreasonable delay. But in the case of two important societies, returns are still outstanding, and the investigaton is, in consequence, delayed.

Detailed Tables 1 to 6 are appended.

L. F. GIBLIN, Government Statistician.
